

Call for application

International Summer School for young scholars

From archives to publication Becoming a Sport Historian

From June 27th to June 30th 2022
In Norwegian School of Sport Sciences, Oslo

Co-organized by

Pierre-Olaf Schut, Université Gustave Eiffel, Grégory Quin, Université de Lausanne,
Allan Bennich Grønkjær, Norwegian School of sport Sciences

Organizing institutions

Description

Organized by Université Gustave Eiffel in France and Université de Lausanne in Switzerland and based on the legacy of the "Copenhagen Summer School" (held since 2003 by Gertrud Pfister), this summer school aims to promote sport history but also more broadly social and human sciences used to analyse the sport phenomena.

This course aims to provide a unique environment for PhD students who seek to develop skills around sport history, and to improve their network in the field. Lectures given by leading experts will cover specific methodological aspects and new issues in the field of sport history. Participants will also have the opportunity to present and discuss their own research in working sessions.

The summer school in 2022 will be held in Oslo on the campus of the Norwegian School of Sport Sciences, just before the beginning of the ISHPES conference which gives the opportunity to take part at both events.

Objectives

At the end of the summer school, the participants should have:

- Discovered new epistemological approaches and new methodologies in sport history;
- Benefited from exchanges with other young scholars;
- Exchanged with influential and recognized professors of the field.

Course format

The summer school host a small group of PhD students which could benefit from the dedication of many international experts.

Experts (to be confirmed)

Prof. Dr. Annette Hofmann (University of Ludwigsburg)

Prof. Dr. Matti Goksøyr (Norwegian School of Sport Sciences)

Dr. Grégory Quin (Université de Lausanne)

Prof. Dr. Pierre-Olaf Schut (Université Gustave Eiffel)

Dr. Claire Nicolas (King's College, London)

Official language: English

Applications

Candidates may provide a 500 words abstract of their research project on :

<https://www.conftool.net/2022-ishpes-conference/>

Deadline January 15th 2022

Contact Pierre-Olaf Schut, po.schut@univ-eiffel.fr

Fees Around 1500-2000 NOK / 150- 200 €

Special rates for participants who want to attend the summer school and ISHPES conference. Fees includes lunches, one dinner and travel to Lillehammer.

Provisional schedule

Monday June 27th

10h00 Welcome meeting

Introduction by Pierre-Olaf Schut, Grégory Quin, Allan Bennich Grønkjær

10h15 Self introduction with poster session

12h30 Lunch

14h00 Workshop 1

16h00 Keynote: Sport history historiography

17h00 City tour

Tuesday June 28th

Travel to Lillehammer

11h00 Visit of the Olympic city

12h30 Lunch

14h00 Conference on Winter Olympics history

15h00 Workshop 2

Travel back to Oslo

20h00 Summer school's dinner

Wednesday June 29th

9h00 Keynote

10h00 Workshop 3

12h30 Lunch

14h00 Assessment

17h00 Beginning of ISHPES conference : Keynote

Thursday June 30th

Inside ISHPES conference

Morning :

Early Career Scholar Gigliola Gori award Keynote

Free choice among parallel sessions

Afternoon:

Free choice among parallel sessions

Session dedicated to young scholars : Publish or perish (Pierre-Olaf Schut, Annette Hofmann)